

Sandy Geyer Bio

Business Leader, Author, Speaker and Entrepreneurial Trainer

Sandy Geyer is no stranger to the entrepreneurial path and its challenges. She co founded and continues to lead one of South Africa's most successful educational publishing companies, established from her garage in 1996, and also owns a Property Investment Company and two training practices. She lives in New Zealand and is passionate about assisting business owners in Australia, New Zealand and South Africa to develop what she terms their Entrepreneurial Intelligence (EnQ). Sandy's knowledge, passion and enthusiasm for business and in particular, business leadership, are the focus of her energetic, engaging and informative presentations.

She has a degree in Industrial Psychology (BA), is a certified DISC communication trainer, an accredited speaker (ASM) with the National Speakers organisation of New Zealand (NSANZ) and has over 20 years experience in running her own successful companies.
